Celebrating 20 years in business, Nova Design and Print continues to seek out the very latest in cutting edge design and print technology. The business was established by Margaret Banks in 1990 as a secretarial bureau and Cindy Zoccolan joined the company as a junior designer that year. Nova Design and Print has since grown to become a well-respected graphic design studio and print shop with loyal customers throughout Tasmania and interstate. Over the years Nova has embraced new technology to keep up with latest trends in graphic design and digital printing.

"Remaining at the forefront of technology has always been a priority. We were one of the first in the state to use the latest Apple Macintosh computer system and later, wide format printers – which have allowed us to become a leader in the field." The creative team at Nova love what they do and this is reflected in their high quality of work including: graphic design, website design, brand development, stationery and brochure printing, packaging, exhibition and signage design. Nova is a full-service graphic and web design agency which offers a one-stop service for all branding and marketing requirements, from logo design for a new corporate identity, through to design and print of stationery, leaflets and brochures, to online services such as website design. Staff are always keen to attend regular training, trade shows and conferences to improve their knowledge benefiting their clients. "For all the technology we have, our staff is our greatest asset and over the years we have taken on many young people through apprenticeships and traineeships enabling them to become sought after graphic designers. At present we have a great team of people with a wide range of skills and experience who work well together. Nova is continually adding to their skills to allow them to increase their qualifications and enhance the business," according to Margaret.

This year Margaret travelled to Birmingham in the UK to attend IPEX – one of Europe’s largest conventions for the print industry. "I was really impressed with what I saw and gratified to see that we were still in the forefront of what is available on the market".

A recent purchase was a state of the art wide format printer allowing Nova to offer an even wider range of signage, poster prints, canvas prints and point of sale material. The printer has many new features that will increase quality, enhance prints (metallic ink now available) and decrease turnaround time.

An area Nova is focussing on at the moment is wall graphics which is an affordable and easy way to decorate a room. Decorating with wall stickers is becoming more and more popular, as people learn about their removability and their broad range of applications; nursery, bedroom, living areas, office, and retail and commercial spaces. Wall graphics are a non-permanent way of adding your own personality to an otherwise blank wall. The success of the business has always been Nova’s focus on customer satisfaction. Believing that travelling the extra mile to satisfy client’s expectations, both in service and completed products, builds strong business foundations. In the future Nova Design and Print with the guidance of Margaret and Cindy and the assistance of their creative team wish to continue to grow Nova’s client base, product range, skills and knowledge. Nova would like to thank all their customers for their loyalty. It is they who have made the last 20 years possible.

Are you targeting Local Government managers?

Is your product or service included in their budgets?

In early 2006 LGAT News published Tasmania’s first Manager’s Resource Directory exclusively for Local Government. It is updated four times per year and is now a permanent lift-out section of the magazine.

The Manager’s Resource Directory is produced to assist government managers in their search for goods and services, as well as consultants and businesses who can provide them with their special requirements.

As a bonus, every issue of LGAT News including the Manager’s Resource Directory is published on the association’s own website – www.lgat.tas.gov.au. The website is well publicised, particularly to state government departments who often work closely with Local Government on various projects.

Remember to ensure your business entries are always current and correct. Details may be updated each issue (every three months) if and when required.

Are you in the directory?

IMPORTANT – If you are not in the directory and would like your details included, please call us to discuss your requirements.
